two years after the date it was received by the United States Patent and Trademark Office, unless it is referred to in a related patent application filed within the two-year period, by way of a letter of transmittal in a new patent application or by a separate letter filed in the USPTO. If the USPTO retains the Disclosure Document beyond the two-year period, it is not confidential.

must be recognized that in establishing priority of invention an affidavit or testimony also establish diligence in completing the invention or in filing the patent application

If you are not familiar with what is considered to be "diligence in completing the invention" or "reduction to practice" under the patent law or if you have other questions about patent matters, you are advised to consult with an attorney or agent registered to practice before the USPTO. The publication, Attorneys and Agents Registered to Practice Before the United States Patent and Trademark Office, is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, DC 20402. Patent attorneys and agents are also listed in the telephone directory of most major cities. Also, many large cities have associations of patent attorneys which may be consulted.

You are also reminded that any public use or sale in the United States or publication of your invention anywhere in the world more than one year prior to the filing of a patent application on that invention will prohibit the granting of a patent on it.

Disclosures of inventions which have been understood and witnessed by persons and/or notarized are other examples of evidence which may also be used to establish priority.

There is a nationwide network of Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), which have collections of patents and patent-related reference materials available to the public, including automated access to USPTO databases. Publications such as General Information Concerning Patents are available at the PTDLs, as well as the USPTO's Web site at www.uspto.gov. To find out the location of the PTDL closest to you, please consult the complete listing of all PTDLs that appears on the USPTO's Web site or in every issue of the Official Gazette; or call the USPTO's General Information Services at 800-PTO-9199 (800-786-9199) or 703-308-HELP (703-308-4357).
